Duke Zhao, a senior creative designer. He has 15 years experience, including 13 years of sanitary product design. The sanitary product design includes the wholeline of sanitary products (a series of hardware products, such as closets, bathcabinets, faucets, showers, bathtubs, hardware pendants, etc.). The sanitary industry is a huge integrated system, which ultimately serves the use experience of consumers as the benchmark. The grasp of every detail of sanitary products and the direction of putting them on the market will determine the value generated in the future, which requires us, as designers, to master all aspects of product knowledge. For the development and design of new products and the supporting and planning of existing products, he has accumulated certain experience and ability. He has personal opinions on the future development of the bathroom industry. He has a strong sense of innovation, cross-border integration, product planning and organizational capabilities.

Inspired by the mesmerizing flow of waterfalls, this water tap transforms natural beauty into a sleek, contemporary design. The silver-ringed, streamlined contours mimic the fluid motion of cascading water, interlacing to create a visually striking silhouette that exudes modern sophistication. These elegant curves not only enhance the tap's aesthetic appeal but also optimize water flow for a smooth, splash-free experience.

The long, slender spout echoes the narrow streams of a waterfall, directing water precisely where it's needed. Paired with a circular knob resembling a delicate button, the design balances form and function seamlessly. The "O" indicator, crafted to look like an elegant stitch on the knob, serves as an intuitive marker for turning the water off, making operation effortless and intuitive.

Constructed from high-quality, corrosion-resistant materials, this tap combines durability with timeless style. Whether adorning a modern kitchen or a luxurious bathroom, it's a functional work of art that brings the tranquility of nature into everyday life.
